ALL the information received from Russian sources with regard to the Chinese position in Kashgaria tends to show that the first Chinese successes have by no means ensured them peaceable possession of the country. There appears to be complete anarchy in-Kashgaria, but at the same time a very decided resolution on all sides not to submit to Chinese authority. As stated previously, honour of their King's birth-day, and that the been laid open. Besides these there were conone large body of Chinese troops has been cut to pieces, and destruction menaces the rest of the army. It is reported that they are | See., Mr. L. F. Barretto, or to Mr. J. M. Guedes, | the next morning the man was brought in a very indifferently armed and drilled : each junior. soldier is armed with either a gun or pike, in the proportion of two pikes to three guns, and the officers carry American rifles. Knowing the amount of care Chinese troops take of their arms it is only reasonable to suppose that these guas are in a wretchedly unserviceable condition. The Russians are not likely to help there by supplying arms, and are extremely lik by to render such assistance to the Kashg dans, and possibly aid the latter in other ways to drive the Chinese back into the Desert of Gobi. It seems to us that the Government of Peking has committed a grave error in policy in pushing her claim to the Kuidja and demanding the rematio of the Ameer Beg she has fully re-established her sway over Kashgaria. The Russians complain loudly September for New York, returned thither on the into custody. They were taken to the Police of the briggedage practised alor, the frontier. in which they allege the Chinese soldiers take part, and assert that Rassian trade from Kohe, arrived on the 12th September with door with the deceased. It is evident that Russia is gradually accumulating material for a beavy claim upon China, which will be produced when Chung How makes his commencing at nine p.m. The following is the sticks, and iron bars. I saw the first defendant, demands at St. Petersburg. The anarchic programme:condition of Kashgaria and the excesses of the Chinese soldiers will at the same time probably be ad uced as all-sufficing excuses for a Russian occupation of Kashgaria a little later on. The Power that intervened to protect the "gentle Bulgarians" from the Turk will find still less difficulty in showing the necessity for interfering to save the Moslems of Kashgar from extirpation by the Pagan Chinese. The Chinese have put themselves in a measure out of court by their barbarous and ruthless slaughter of non-combatants in cold half-past two o'clock at the coal godowns of seven p.m. on the 25th instant I was returning blood in Central Asia. The difficulties between the two countries appear irreconcileable unless one or other Government is prepared to make great concessions. The Russians will not retrocede the Kuldja nor will they surronder the Ameer. They may, however, instead thereof make new demands on the Chinese Government that will be difficult. to concede, dangerous to refuse. It has been suggested that the British Government should prop up China in this emergency and support her as a barrier against Russian aggression.
